

The Rainbow Project At Greenbrook

Building social skills and confidence for children in Grades K-5.

The Rainbow Project uses small group and one-on-one sessions with children to teach empathy, problem solving and emotion management, and generally promote school adjustment. These social skills are the building blocks for future relationships, boosting self-esteem and helping teach self control. The program has made a proven difference in the children participating and it has a "ripple effect" that positively impacts the entire school community. Some reasons children may benefit from Rainbow services include: new school adjustment issues, academic pressures, peer pressure, extreme shyness, divorce, illness other assorted reasons.

The Rainbow Project Needs Your Help!!

If the Rainbow Project is to continue helping our children build confidence and self-esteem, we need your help. Each year Rainbow needs $19,000 to fund the program. Funds from our fund raiser are not enough. Please help your child and other children receive a good start in school through the enhancement of their educational experience and their personal development.
